FUNDERS

Royal Botanical Gardens is funded by the people of Ontario through Ontario Ministry of Tourism, Culture and Sport, Regional Municipality of Halton, City of Hamilton, Royal Botanical Gardens' members, and many corporations, foundations and individuals.

MISSION

We dedicate our expertise in horticulture, conservation, science and education — together with our unique gardens, facilities and natural lands — to inspire and nurture society's commitment to the environment.

VISION

Royal Botanical Gardens is a global leader in how we use plants and the natural world to connect people, place and sustainable behaviors.

2017 represented the third year of our Strategic Plan that provides direction through to 2020 — it is aimed at taking RBG to a new level of performance.

Ontario and Canada's 150th celebrations made for an exceptional year at the Gardens as we increased our efforts and provided a year of experiences that explored all aspects of RBG. Visitors connected to Canada's heritage and our environment through exhibitions, educational programming and special events; discovered our beauty and history through our landscapes and unique horticultural displays; and celebrated with great concerts, art, culinary experiences and cultural programs.

It all started with The Big Freeze, our winter exhibit experience brought the Ice Age home to RBG. The family-friendly experience featured two special exhibits and daily activities where visitors of all ages explored the past and learned about the future. Ice Age Mammals brought our guests face-to-face with mega-sized fossilized mammals while After the Thaw put them in touch with real fossils and artifacts from RBG, demonstrating how our local landscape has evolved over time.

In April 2017, we hosted our first annual Plant Faire, a collaborative effort of staff and volunteers that resulted in an educational plant sale that will be evolving in the years to come. From there, the celebrations continued with Canadian premier of Nature Connects®, an award-winning exhibition made entirely of LEGO® bricks.

A full lineup of events celebrated the diversity of our province and RBG's landscape and beauty. The year included sculptures, performances and culinary journeys, numerous musical performances including a signature performance by The Tenors, horticultural displays including renovations to the Centennial Rose Garden, and we worked together with an Indigenous knowledge bearer and elders, as well as many community volunteers on a new trail experience, called Enji naagdowing Anishinaabe waadiziwin (The Journey to Anishinaabe Knowledge). This explores the culture and native plants used by the Anishinabek nation.

Shakespeare at the Rock and a performance by the Hamilton Philharmonic Orchestra were again added to our David Braley & Nancy Gordon Rock Garden programming. We unveiled Flora Hominis, the newest addition to our sculpture collection, created by local artist Brandon Vickerd. Located in the Dalglish Courtyard, it is a contemporary piece commemorating RBG founder Thomas Baker McQuesten. This representation was made possible through the support of Ontario 150 and the Dalglish Family Foundation.

In addition to these celebratory events, RBG hosted the 2017 Annual Conference of the American Public Gardens Association here in Hamilton. We partnered with Niagara Parks Commission to welcome over 700 registrants representing gardens and arboreta from North America and beyond. The conference ended with a tour and dinner at the newly rejuvenated and award-winning Rock Garden which left many visitors speechless!

Locally, Rock Garden's visitor centre was recognized early in November with City of Hamilton's Urban Design and Architecture Award of Excellence for a Public Building.

Spring's wet weather brought many challenges with flooding, combined with newly adjusted higher lake levels. Our natural lands crew worked for months restoring shorelines, trails and drainage ditches that were washed out and damaged. Two roads were under water from May to August and restricted access to many areas of the property. That said, the rains provided us with spectacular bloom periods.

Our adult membership has grown to nearly 18,000 and we are also experiencing growth in our annual fundraising revenues. This has been both challenging and rewarding as we are now raising capital funds for the Rose Garden Rejuvenation project, in parallel.

Ontario 150 funding will leave a legacy of experiences for our visitors and members to enjoy for years to come. Our dedicated staff, volunteers and the tremendous support of our core funders ensured that Royal Botanical Gardens provided memorable experiences in what perhaps has been our busiest year.

The award-winning Rock Garden continued to receive national recognition in October 2017:

- 2. Canadian Society of Landscape Architects 2017 National Award for large-scale public landscapes designed by a landscape architect (over 5 hectares)

STRATEGIC GOALS

In the third year of its five-year strategic plan, Royal Botanical Gardens' board of directors, staff, and volunteers addressed four key priorities that will carry the organization into the next decade poised for even greater success:

- 1. The RBG Guest Experience RBG will provide legendary guest experiences.
- 2. Financial Sustainability RBG will become financially sustainable by 2020. RBG will have sufficient revenue to achieve its strategic goals.
- 3. Environmental Leadership RBG will take leadership on environmental stewardship and education locally, provincially, nationally and internationally
- 4. Governance and Leadership RBG will maximize all human resources (the RBG Team) to support the strategic directions of the organization.

ENVIRONMENT

In December 2016 Royal Botanical Gardens hired a staff member responsible for the measurement of RBG's environmental performance and to suggest and coordinate projects to improve our environmental performance. With this new internal capacity, alongside RBG's expertise and commitment to nature, we are making phenomenal progress measuring, monitoring and reducing our greenhouse gas emissions.

In 2017, RBG became a GOLD level member of Sustainable Hamilton Burltington's Sustainable Business Initiative which includes a greenhouse gas reduction target of 20% of our 2017 baseline by 2027.

EDUCATION

RBG celebrated 70 years of providing our community and members with engaging educational experiences, connecting people of all ages to the natural world.

Starting with our children's gardening programs and public lectures way back in 1947, education at RBG now includes a whole suite of on-site programs as well as state-of-the-art digital technology reaching schools across North America and around the world.

2,781 registrants in 141 public programs 2,197 campers took part in over 50 camp days totaling 7,608 experiences

16,605 students experienced RBG school programs Over 101,000 participants in interpretive programs and activities

450 kindergarten students and 36 educators involved in a Back to Nature Network research project focused on the impacts of regular outdoor learning at school

2017 key plantings: 129 trees 659 shrubs 5074 perennials 12044 perennial bulbs

HORTICULTURE

Work began on the creation of a new, sustainable Rose Garden featuring a spectacular display of roses and companion plants, extending seasonal interest in Hendrie Park. The rejuvenated Rose Garden is being created with an emphasis on low impact environmentally friendly horticulture practices for a more resilient, sustainable and earth-kind rose collection, unique to Canada and public gardens in North America. The garden will open in 2018.

Throughout all the garden areas, a wide range of vibrantly coloured annuals were featured in celebration of Canada and Ontario's Sesquicentennial.

In RBG collections, benchmarking of RBG's Peony and Lilac collections was completed resulting in verification that 50% of the peonies and 86% of the lilacs within these collections are unique to RBG and therefore not available for purchase anywhere in the nursery trade.

A manager of plant propagation and production position was created and filled in support of long-range organizational objectives.

490 turtle hatchlings successfully released to RBG wetlands

NATURAL LANDS

Activities in natural lands were defined b by a changing climate and record high water levels on Lake Ontario. Sections of RBG trails and roads were closed for months due to flooding and emergency measures were taken at additional locations. Environmental implications were extensive, with multiple carp barriers overtopped, and special measures implemented at the Cootes Paradise Fishway to maintain its function.

Much of the marsh restoration success of 2016 was undone by the extremely deep and impaired water quality. As water receded in August, replanting of 20,000 wetland plants began. A few wetland birds flourished in the extensively flooded habitat, highlighted by the Least Bittern, a species at risk.

SCIENCE

The science department embarked on new research projects involving invasive species that included testing burns to control invasive grass Poa nemoralis and plans for development of RBG's first strategy to detect and control invasive species.

RBG's herbarium team participated in a number of educational events aimed to bring awareness to plants. These included interpretive programming such as Botany and Gruits (ancient beer recipes) at RBG's Fest-of-Ales event, adaptation at the Pollination Festival and plant ID services at the first RBG/Cootes to Escarpment BioBlitz.

Dr. David Galbraith, head of science, represented the Gardens on a national and international front, facilitating the First Nations Panel Discussion at the American Public Gardens Association Annual Conference and attending the Global Botanic Gardens Congress in Geneva, Switzerland.

Report on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Royal Botanical Gardens, which are comprised of the statement of financial position as at December 31, 2017, and the statements of operations, changes in net assets and cash flows for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian Accounting Standards for Not-for-Profit Organizations and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Royal Botanical Gardens as at December 31, 2017, and its financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian Accounting Standards for Not-for-Profit Organizations.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. DESCRIPTION

Royal Botanical Gardens ("RBG") is one of Canada's premier cultural, educational and scientific institutions, comprised of more than 1,100 hectares of horticultural display gardens, arboretum, woodlands, wetlands and 30 kilometres of trails. RBG receives transfer payments from the Ontario Ministry of Tourism, Culture and Sport and receives additional support from the City of Hamilton ("City"), the Regional Municipality of Halton, RBG members, the Auxiliary of Royal Botanical Gardens (the "Auxiliary"), many corporations, foundations and individuals.

The Auxiliary is incorporated under the laws of Ontario as a separate corporation without share capital and was established to promote the objects and interests of RBG through volunteer service. The activities of the Auxiliary are undertaken with the approval of the Board of Directors (the "Board") of RBG and any profits are to be used by RBG. The accounts of the Auxiliary are not consolidated in these financial statements.

The RBG is a registered charity under the Income Tax Act (Canada) and, as such, is exempt from income taxes.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Canadian Accounting Standards for Not-for-Profit Organizations applied within the framework of the significant accounting policies summarized below:

- (a) Revenue Recognition
  - (i) Grants are recorded as revenue when the related expenses have been incurred and the applications for the grants have been approved by the relevant government agencies. Grants received in advance of incurring the related expenses are included on the statement of financial position as deferred revenue.
  - (ii) Unrestricted donations, admission fees, membership fees, other program fees, event revenue, food and beverage revenue, rental revenue and garden shop revenue are recognized as revenue in the year in which they are received. Restricted donations are deferred and recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expenses are incurred.
  - (iii) Externally restricted contributions for depreciable capital assets are deferred and amortized over the life of the related assets. Externally restricted contributions for non-depreciable capital assets are recorded as a direct increase in unrestricted net assets. Externally restricted capital asset contributions that have not been spent are recorded as part of deferred capital contributions on the statement of financial position.
     Self-funded contributions for depreciable capital assets are deferred and amortized over the life of the related assets. Self-funded capital asset contributions that have not been expended are recorded as part of net assets invested in capital assets on the statement of financial position.
  - (iv) Endowment contributions are recognized as a direct increase in endowment net assets in the year in which they are received.
- (b) Contributed Services

Volunteers contribute numerous hours per year to assist RBG in carrying out its activities. Due to the difficulty in determining their fair value, contributed services have not been recognized in the financial statements.

(c) Donations In-Kind

Donations in-kind are recorded at their estimated fair market value at the date of donation and disclosed in Note 14, reconciling total development - donations.

(d) Measurement of Financial Instruments

RBG initially measures its financial assets and liabilities at fair value, except for certain non-arm's length transactions. RBG subsequently measures all its financial assets and financial liabilities at amortized cost, except for investments as described in note 2(e).

Financial assets measured at amortized cost include cash and accounts receivable. Financial liabilities measured at amortized cost include demand loan and accounts payable. RBG has designated all portfolio investments to be measured at fair value as described in note 2(e).

Financial assets measured at cost are tested for impairment when there are indicators of impairment. The amount of the write-down is recognized in the statement of operations. The previously recognized impairment loss may be reversed to the extent of the improvement, directly or by adjusting the allowance account, provided it is no greater than the amount that would have been reported at the date of the reversal had the impairment not been recognized previously. The amount of the reversal is recognized in the statement of operations.

(e) Investments

All investments are recorded at fair value. The quoted market price was used to estimate the fair value of the financial instruments held as investments.

Investment income, net of investment management fees, is allocated to the restricted deferred funds and statement of operations on a prorated basis. The ratio of total endowments, internally restricted net assets and deferred operating contributions at the beginning of the month divided by the total average investment cost for the month is calculated. This ratio is then applied to the total net investment income earned for the month to determine the amount of investment income to apply to the deferred operating contributions, internally restricted net assets and endowments. Remaining unallocated net investment income is recorded in the statement of operations.

Unrealized gains and losses on investments are allocated to the restricted deferred funds and unrestricted net assets on a prorated basis. The ratio, described above, is applied to the total unrealized gains and losses at month end to determine the amount of unrealized gains and losses to apply to the deferred operating contributions, internally restricted net assets and endowments. Remaining unallocated unrealized gains and losses are included in unrestricted net assets. The change in unrestricted unrealized gains and losses are recorded in the statement of operations. When investments are sold, realized gains and losses are recognized in investment income.

(f) Inventory

Inventory, consisting of items available for sale in RBG's gift shop, is valued at the lower of cost or net realizable value. Cost is determined using the weighted average method. Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less any applicable variable selling costs.

Included in admissions, memberships and other program expenses is $411,433 (2016: $364,739) of inventory expensed during the year.

(g) Capital Assets

Capital assets are recorded at cost, except for donated assets, which are recorded at fair market value at the date of contribution. The fair market value of previously donated land could not be determined and therefore, the total 1,100 hectares of land have been recorded at a nominal value of $9,428.

Amortization is provided on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of the assets as follows:

Buildings	40 years
Mechanical equipment	20 years
Gardens and natural area infrastructures	20 years
Roadways and parking lots	20 years
Vehicles and equipment	5 years
Furniture and fixtures	10 years
Computer equipment	3 years
Media stock	5 years
Exhibits	3 years

Contributed capital assets are recognized at the fair value at the date of contribution. The contribution is recognized as revenue on the same basis as the amortization expense of the contributed capital asset.

Construction in progress is not amortized until the assets are available for use. During the year, interest of nil (2016: $51,103) was capitalized during the construction.

When a capital asset no longer has any long-term service potential to RBG, the excess of its net carrying amount over any residual value is recognized as an expense in the statement of operations.

(h) Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Canadian Accounting Standards for Not-for-Profit Organizations requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Such estimates include the useful lives of capital assets, allowances for inventory obsolescence, allowances for doubtful accounts and accruals. Actual results may vary from the current estimates. These estimates are reviewed periodically and, as adjustments become necessary, they are reported in earnings in the periods in which they become known.

3. INVESTMENTS

The investments consist of funds that are professionally managed, diversified and are invested in the following categories: cash and near cash securities, fixed income securities and equity securities.

15. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Risks and Concentrations

RBG is exposed to various risks through its financial instruments. The following analysis provides a measure of RBG's risk exposure and concentrations at December 31, 2017.

(a) Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that RBG will encounter difficulty in meeting obligations associated with financial liabilities. RBG is exposed to this risk mainly in respect of its demand loan and accounts payable. RBG's objective in managing liquidity risk is to maintain sufficient readily available reserves in order to meet its liquidity requirements at any point in time. RBG achieves this by maintaining sufficient cash and cash equivalents.

(b) Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk that one party to a financial instrument will cause a financial loss for the other party by failing to discharge an obligation. RBG's main credit risks relate to its accounts receivable. RBG provides credit to its clients in the normal course of its operations.

(c) Market Risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risk comprises three types of risk: currency risk, interest rate risk and other price risk. RBG is exposed to currency risk, interest rate risk and other price risk.

- (i) Currency Risk Currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. Some of RBG's assets are exposed to foreign exchange fluctuations. As at December 31, 2017, cash of $21,395 (2016: bank indebtedness of $10,463) is recorded in US dollars and converted into Canadian dollars. Approximately 40% (2016: 41%) of RBG's investments are held in US dollars and converted into Canadian dollars.
- (ii) Interest Rate Risk Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. RBG is exposed to interest rate risk on its floating interest rate demand loan, which subjects RBG to a cash flow risk.
- (iii) Other Price Risk Other price risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices (other than those arising from interest rate risk or currency risk). RBG is exposed to other price risk due to a substantial portion of its assets being held in investments, which are susceptible to fluctuations in market values. To manage this risk, RBG management and the Board of Directors reviews its investment strategies at least annually with RBG's investment advisor.
